

AXIS

YEAR ROUND

INDIA PALE ALE

BRIGHT & HOPPY WITH FEW NATURAL PREDATORS

Brewed for tap walls overrun with the white noise of West Coast IPA's, here's an offering so exotic, you'd think it was from another world. Like its namesake before it, the Axis deer of Southern Asia, so too has this species of hop- forward animal magnetism come to invade the landscape of IPA's that have long held sway over the taps of Texas's finest watering holes. Tropical fruit, citrus, and a pale golden body help keep this breed light on its feet. And with few natural predators, there is little anyone can do to stop its spread. IPA may not have been born in Texas, but it will soon seem as native as the sky that stretches between its borders.
